Cotswold's Dry Gin has a genuinely tasty and intriguing flavour journey. The black pepper and lavender bring a really unique element but it never strays away from being a classic, juniper-heavy gin with a refreshing kick and a characterful and endlessly oscillating sweet-spice duality. That high oil content comes into play on the mouthfeel too and at 46%, it's smooth enough to sip neat.

Benjamin Hall, Strawberry Pink Gin, Wales

It's very well structured, and difficult to unpick but a citrus fresh start segues into pine and wood notes for a drying finish.*

Whisky

Scotland

Highlands

This High-land has a powerful appeal. The Highland distilleries and their whiskies reveal a richer, living landscape. Here, it is wise to expect the unexpected: grass, smoke, wax, tropical fruits and currants, austerity and voluptuousness.

Glenmorangie Nectar D'or

46%

£ 6.00

Glenmorangie's Nectar d'Or, gold awarded 12 Year Old whisky is finished in hand selected barriques from Sauternes: the most famous and ancient sweet wine growing region of France. This is sweet and spicy with notes of ginger, nutmeg lemon meringue and honeycomb.

Oban, 14yo

43%

£ 6.00

The Western Highland representative in Diageo's 'Classic Malt' series, Oban 14yo is a superb, full-blooded fruity malt, taste of mouth-filling late autumn fruits - dried figs and honey-sweet spices, followed by a smoky malty dryness. The finish is long, smooth-sweet finish with oak-wood, dryness and a grain of salt.

Speyside

Speyside has long been the heartland of malt whisky production and because of this it is easy to assume that its makes all fall within the same group. It's not so, Speyside is all about diversity, not commonality: there is no single Speyside style just as there is no uniform Speyside landscape.

Macallan Gold

40%

£ 5.00

This malt whisky has been matured in American oak casks and then Spanish oak Oloroso sherry casks. The nose opens with tangy citrus fruits and a warming vanilla, with a little hint of cinnamon spice and oak wood to it. The palate is sweet, full of flavour with a long finish, medium sweet, malty and slightly dry.

Balvenie, 12yo Double wood

£ 6.00

One of the classic after-dinner malts, Balvenie Double wood's extra complexity and richness are a result of a second maturation in fresh sherry casks. Long and warming finish, smooth and mellow palate with beautifully combined flavours – nutty sweetness, cinnamon spiciness and a delicately proportioned layer of sherry. A balance struck between evolving character and struck.

Royal Salute 21yo, Chivas Brother

40%

£ 11.00

Created to be a Regal blend, it has a soft, approachable nose, traces of ripe fruit, and old oak with a dash of ginger and honey. The palate is soft again with sweet malt, a gentle grainy oak, and a distant smoked honey. Delicate and smooth finish.

Lowlands

The mind-set of the Lowlands distiller has always been different to that of his Highland counterpart. They have always thought big, needing to satisfy a larger populace, and also for commercial reasons. The Lowlands became the undeniable capital of grain-whisky production, being the fastest – growing malt region in Scotland. Their whisky is large-scale, blended and urban but now it is also regaining its rural roots.

Auchentoshan Three Wood

43%

£ 6.25

The ever-popular Auchentoshan Three Wood is matured initially in bourbon casks before being finished in Oloroso then Pedro Ximénez casks for an extra layer of rich, sweet fruitiness. Three distillations, three casks, one fantastic scotch. The nose reminds of a cooked fruit, sherry and toffee, a rum-like quality smell, with a rich and sweet palate, like liqueur cherries in dark chocolate and a fresh and fruity long-lasting oaky sweetness.

Islay

Islay's malts start life on the peat moss. Their aromas are the product of thousands of years of maceration, compression, decay, and transformation. You cannot escape peat on Islay. It is the DNA of its malts. Here the geographical terroir doesn't just speak, it roars.

Ardberg 10yo

46%

£ 5.50

For peat lovers, Ardbeg 10-Year-Old is probably the highest-quality 'entry-level' single malt on the market, a whirlwind of peat and complex malty flavours. A burst of intense smoky fruit on the nose – peat infused with zesty lemon and lime, wrapped in waxy dark chocolate. Long and smoky finish with tarry espresso, aniseed, toasted almonds and traces of soft barley and fresh pear.

Laphroaig 10 Yo

40%

£ 6.00

Laphroaig 10yo is a full-bodied, smoky gem, with a surprising sweetness and a hint of salt amid the sea weedy, peaty characters before a long warming finish. Laphroaig 10 yo remains a beloved classic because of its ability to transport its audience to Islay, a remote and harsh place many will never travel to.

Lagavulin 16yo

43%

£ 7.00

The Islay representative in the 'Classic Malts' series is deep, dry and exceptionally peaty. A big, robust and complex nose, seriously smoky, like Lapsang Souchong tea. The palate is very thick and rich, with a massive mouthful of malt and sherry with wonderful fruity sweetness. Long and complex finish of seaweed and smoke.

Islands

Island with their scents that seem to drift in from the landscape, by and large haven't been steered by the requirements of the market, they are as they are. Take them or leave them.

Isle of Jura 10 Yo

40%

£ 6.00

Isle of Jura 10yo is accessible, easy-drinking malt aged in ex-Bourbon casks for 10 years. Medium-bodied with a delicate sweet palate and a hint of brine developing on the finish. A touch of peat with gentle oak and arak with blossom tones.

£ 6.50

A sherried release from Highland Park, Dark Origins is a combination of 80% first fill sherry casks (of which 60% is European oak and 20% American) and 20% refill sherry. A dark expression which fits in with the distillery's origins – founder Magnus Eunson being a smuggler who worked in the darkness of night. Nose of sherried spice and ripe banana, a well-balanced palate, dry peat at first mellowing out to maraschino cherries, warm dark chocolate and enduring sweet smoke finish.

Ireland

Jameson's, Original blend

40%

£ 4.00

The nose is full and floral with a smooth sweetness. The palate is thick and of good body with notes of orchard fruits, both fresh and cooked with a little vanilla cream. The finish is of medium-length with spice and honey.

Japan

Nikka All Malt

40%

£ 6.00

A blended Japanese whisky from Nikka made with malt from Yoichi and a combination of malt and Coffey Still whisky from Miyagikyou. A very good entry into Japanese whisky. Smooth but well rounded, smoky with a sweet finish.

Hibiky Harmony

43%
